

where σ is a function emulating a threshold activation